Chicago, July 15—(AP)—Alarm at lack of news of the balloon De- troiter, one of the four which left here Tuesday night in a national race, officials of the National Aero- nautic Association today appealed to the government to aid in a search of eastern Tennessee and northern Ala- bama for the missing bag. The other balloons have landed.

The government is asked to broad- cast appeals for information about the bag and to ask residents of the Appalachian region to search for it. The Hi-Ball landed at 6:15 a. m., eastern standard time, today five miles south of Portland, and took the lead in the contest, according to word today to the National Aeronautic Association here.

Portland, Ark., is 625 miles on an airline southwest of Chicago.

The Goodyear IV, Akron, Ohio, piloted by C. K. Wallum, landed at 3:15 p. m., yesterday at Huron, Tenn., the association was notified today. It was in the air 21 hours and 15 minutes and traveled 415 miles.

The Detroit of the Detroit Fly- ing Club was unaccounted for today and so far as officials could learn it had not been sighted after it soared above Grant Park in the take-off Tuesday evening and disappeared in the southwest.

The fourth entrant that of Captain H. E. Honnervell of St. Louis, was unaccounted for yesterday. It was forced down at Thompsonville, Ill., and was first to land.

Iowa City, Iowa, July 15—(AP)—A University of Iowa student reported seeing a slow moving light in the sky last night which may have been the missing balloon in the race that started from Chicago. The light was visible for about 30 minutes moving toward the southwest. The bag could not be seen.

EIGHTEEN KNOWN
MISSING IN FIRE
IN RESORT HOTELSearch of Ruins is Continued Today; Eleven
Bodies Taken Out

Tannersville, N. Y., July 15—(AP)—Search was made today in the ruins of the Twilight Inn for additional bodies of guests and employees be- lieved to have lost their lives when flames turned the three story wood- en structure into a roaring furnace yesterday.

Eleven bodies lay this morning in a barn only slightly removed from the smoking mass of debris that marked the site of the hotel in the restricted orange community of the Catskill Mountains.

A few of the rescuers continued ef- forts throughout the night to find bodies of relatives and friends.

A revised list of the missing issued by the Inn contained 18 names, 11 of them women and 2 children. The bodies already rescued counted for eleven of these but they were char- acterized beyond recognition.

The hotel safe, bent and battered, but intact, was taken from the ruins and it was planned to open it in the belief that it might contain some in- formation on which to reconstruct the record of guests and employees in the building when it was destroyed.

President on His Handling Line

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 15—(AP)—President Coolidge's skill as a fisher- man has developed to a point where his guides are complimenting him on his technique in casting and in hand- ling his line when he trolls on Osgood Lake.

Mrs. Coolidge frequently watches from the little promontory on which the summer White House is situated as the President trolls back and forth with his guide. She is also fond of going out on the lake herself, either for a spin in a launch or a ride in a guide boat.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge invited their first guests at camp for lunch today. Former Representative H. P. Snyder of Little Falls and Mrs. Snyder, who are touring this part of the mountains, are the first to be thus honored at the summer White House. He is a republican. Another caller at the executive offices yester- day was Joseph P. Tumulty, sec- retary to President Wilson. Mr. Tumulty is spending the summer at Lake Placid, not far from Paul Smith's.

Flashes of Life

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York—The fairest red head in West Virginia, Miss Eva Phipps of Smithfield, has no stage ambitions; she is a school teacher and has just won a beauty contest which entitled her to a free trip to New York and the Philadelphia exposition.

New York—Another southwest songbird is to charm Broadway. Miss Maxine Wells of San Antonio, so- prano, is to join the cast of "Sun- ny." She has operatic ambitions.

London—Alfonzo likes the strenu- ous life. For him nothing is such good preparation for a state dinner as a game of polo. As the Duke of Toledo he won a game for his side in the afternoon and then as the King of Spain in the evening dined at Buckingham with the famous gold plate and the choicest wines in front of him.

Rome—They're fighting real duels in Italy now. In the latest sa- vers were used vigorously for half an hour with the result that Signor De Al- fonzo, honorary consul general of the Fascist militia, received three serious slashes.

New York—Some judges should be chloroformed in the opinion of Pus- sey Johnson, because of their leni- ency toward violators of the prohibition law. He's off of Esthonia to attend an international anti-alcoholic con- gress.

New York—Father Knickerbocker is wondering whether to collect some- thing like ten cents or a quarter each from his guests. A proposal for a city tax on visitors registered at ho- tels is under consideration.

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—George Huff, veteran athletic director at the University of Illinois, submitted today to another blood transfusion opera- tion in a London hospital and after- ward was reported as "holding his own."

Fired at Arsenal

Dover, N. J., July 15—(AP)—Not even the "Big Berthas" fired on Paris dug craters to match those scooped out by Saturday's major explosion at Lake Denmark arsenal, in the opinion of Captain A. T. Lewis.

He is a man who believes the army is safer than Broadway, who has been in the marines for 21 years and who was in charge of the first marine camp in France, yesterday he led the 100 interortz- ed who for the greater part of the day fought fire in a building ad- jacent to two in which high explo- sives were stored.

The waste lands of Lake Den- mark are in worse condition than any place on the western front, he declares.

BULLETIN

Dover, N. J., July 15—(AP)—The number of those known to have lost their lives in the Lake Denmark ar- senal disaster, increased to 22 today with the finding of an unidentified body of a man not far from the area in which the bodies of most of the victims were recovered.

Fires in various parts of the naval arsenal today were combated by de- tails of marines. None was regarded as dangerous.

Shells, some of 14 inch calibre, con- tinued to explode today in the wreck- ed magazines and the intermittent discharges of boxes of fuses added to the warlike atmosphere of the devas- tated area.

Dover, N. J., July 15—(AP)—Strict watch was continued today at Lake Denmark's devastated naval arma- munition depot for smoldering fires which might cause further explosions. During the night there were seven heavy explosions and 25 reports from small arm ammunition discharging.

This was less than the night before. Rain between midnight and 6 a. m., did not extinguish the smoldering embers and the marines continued their fire patrol of the section in which the lightning on Saturday set off high explosives to kill at least 21. Injure more than one hundred and destroy two hundred homes. Yester- day they laid a half mile of hose line to the waters of a small lake to be used in case of emergency.

An army board for two days has been going into the extent and cost of damage to the army post at Pleasant which adjoins the wasted Lake Denmark naval depot and where practically all the buildings except those used for the storage and ammunition were so shattered that they must be rebuilt.

To Hear Testimony.
A naval board under Rear Admiral Harris will consider damage to prop- erty not owned by the government and tomorrow the court of inquiry which is to hear the testimony of sur- vivors and investigate all other cir- cumstances of the catastrophe is to convene here under Rear Admiral Conz.

A regular army detachment of 150 men under Brig. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, which was rushed here Saturday from Fort Jay and Wadsworth for police and patrol duty was withdrawn today. With their departure command re- verted to Major Ramsey at the army arsenal and Captain Enoch at the naval station.

PART OF JAWBONE AND TEETH

in Distress at Sea

Portland, Ore., July 15—(AP)—Further evidence of the prevalence in this locality of monster animals before the glacial period, thousands of years ago, was taken from the bed of Rock river yesterday afternoon, in the form of a section of the frontal jawbone of one of these mon- sters. Raymond Huggins, who is em- ployed at the foot of Douglas avenue, discovered the interesting and won- derfully preserved specimen of the wild life that at one time existed in this section of North America.

The specimen is believed to be the frontal section of a jaw bone and con- tains in all, eight monster teeth, the largest of which measures three and one quarter inches in length. The sec- tion of jaw is six and one quarter inches in length and four and one half inches wide. Dr. E. A. Sickels and Dr. F. L. Habilton examined the interesting specimen this morning and pronounced it to be a section of the jaw of some pre-glacial monster. It will probably be taken to the Field museum in Chicago where ex- perts will have an opportunity of ex- amining the specimen for the pur- pose of identifying it with one of the families of mammoths of that period before the glaciers swept North Amer- ica.

Several fine specimens of single teeth and bones have been found in this locality in the past few years, but the one taken from the bed of Rock river yesterday is declared by those who have viewed it to be per- fect in preservation. Protected from the air which destroys the enamel and teeth, the specimen is complete- ly petrified. The enamel on the teeth, which appear to be eight in number, is three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness and the action of the wa- ter and sand has added a beautiful polish to the molars. Friends of Mr. Huggins today were urging him to send the specimen to the Field Mu- seum in Chicago for analysis.

Durand Community Fire
Co. Held Up as Example

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—The two organizers of a rural fire department which they say is second to none, today told the agriculture committee of the National Fire Waste Com- mission how their department "has made a big nick in the fire loss of our district." They are L. M. Mar- tens and Dr. T. H. Young of Durand, Ill.

Organization of the department was undertaken when Mr. Martens found that his little community lost $100,000 worth of property by fire last year. It ended when Martens and Dr. Young had a thoroughly orga- nized volunteer department which cov- ered a five mile radius from the cen- ter of Durand.

The rural department has a pump- er and chemical truck. Precise re- cords are kept so that if anything goes wrong those who subscribed the money for the apparatus will know who to blame.

Sesqui Employees
Arrested; Worked at Expo on Sunday

Philadelphia, Pa., July 15—(AP)—Three employees were under arrest to- day and "higher ups" were threatened with arrest in a campaign to close the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition on Sundays. A woman guide at a con- cession and two men ticket sellers were arrested last night. Warrants obtained by the Methodist Men's Com- mittee were issued for twelve employ- es, but only three could be located. The warrants charged misdemeanors.

L. C. Hickman, counsel for the com- mittee, said the heads of concessions would be arrested next Sunday and that "from now on the Sunday arrests will go higher up."

Hearing on an application for an injunction restraining the exposition from opening on the Sabbath has been set for next Monday.

Judge Scored LaSalle
County Clerk in Court

Ottawa, Ill., July 15—(AP)—Decla- ring he believed the LaSalle County clerk guilty of "the grossest negli- gence that ever has come to the at- tention of any court," in the case of the April 13 primary ballots Judge Eldridge yesterday refused to hear testimony in circuit court regarding the uninitiated ballots thrown out in the election recount. He said he would sign a decree showing that John Wyle and R. G. Soderstrom, were nomi- nated as republican candidates for state representatives. Soderstrom yester- day won a recount contest instituted by Sheriff E. J. Welter, the defeated candidate, by 55 1/2 votes.

TRANSIT CO. IMPOUNDS PAY
OF STRIKERS IN ITS SUIT
FOR DAMAGES AGAINST THEM

New York, July 15—(AP)—The Interborough Rapid Transit Company will make "another Danbury Hatters' case" if necessary, out of its suit for $239,000 damages it has filed against strikers. J. L. Quackenbush, counsel for the company announced.

Many of the sixty two men named in the suit are prosperous, owning homes and small business places, he says, and will be made to pay. Asked if the company would attempt to take the small farm owned by one man, Mr. Quackenbush replied "certainly it will."

The company has impounded the wages due the strikers to apply on the damages it claims. The basis of the suit will be that the strikers broke the contract which they, as members of the company's union, had made not to strike.

In the Danbury Hatters' case the finances of a union and of members were used to satisfy a judgment for damages obtained by employers.

The subway strike which the Inter- borough Rapid Transit Company an- nounced Tuesday was ended as far as they were concerned when all strik- ers were crossed from the payrolls, showed new signs of life today.

At strike headquarters it was an- nounced that 105 men had walked out from the 74th Street power house and had thrown in their lot with the strikers. This power house furnishes cur- rent to the east side subway and elevated lines in Manhattan, the Inter- borough lines in Brooklyn and the Corona and Astoria lines in Queens.

The strike is now nearing the end of its second week. Service, accord- ing to subway officials is practically on a normal basis.

The 400 patrolmen who have been riding on the elevated trains since the strike were ordered removed to- day. Chief Inspector Leahy announced that the patrolmen who have been stationed on platform would remain at their posts. There is no change in the policing of the subways he said. All vacations in the police department have been ordered suspended until the strike is settled.

Miss Bertha Hanes Entertained Tuesday

Miss Bertha Hanes, Dixon school nurse, delightfully entertained Tuesday in honor of Miss Margaret Heinke, of Keokuk, Iowa, who is visiting Miss Rebecca Fogleman and Miss Beulah Reed of Oregon, all three of the young ladies motoring here yesterday. Yesterday afternoon Miss Hanes entertained at her home and in the evening she was hostess at dinner at the Hotel Dixon. Besides Misses Heinke, Reed and Fogleman, Miss Hanes' guests included Miss Josephine Fish, Miss Ruth McGinnis and Mrs. Jessie Burtsfield, latter the county nurse. The Misses Hanes, McGinnis, Heinke and Mrs. Burtsfield were all students together two years ago at summer school in the Public Health department at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa, and had many interesting reminiscences to recount. Miss Heinke, who is now school nurse at Keokuk, was overseas during the World War in service and specialized in the giving of anaesthetics. After dinner last evening at the Hotel, a theatre party was enjoyed at the Dixon Theatre.

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

BY ALLENE SUMNER

On Board S. S. Leviathan.—We are going to Europe. We are on a big boat. The boat is moving. We will reach Europe in six days, all going well, God willin'.

My style is modeled after that of little Rolfe. A friend gave me a complete set of the Little Rolfe Abroad books for a bon voyage gift.

We also have candy and other things which should never be given as bon voyage gifts by those people who follow etiquette in all her many phases.

Lemons dried beef, sassafras root and soda straight are bon voyage gifts recommended by every watery traveler.

There are 2000 passengers on board most of them in the tourist III cabin.

They, like Gwennie Astorbilt, just can't stand all the effete tokens of an effete civilization as carried on in First Class.

I might digress a moment and mention that one can go to Europe and come home again for $180 round trip if he or she travels like most of us on this boat.

Second class travel is $157 up, one way. First class, $299 up, one way. Most of the tourist third class travelers have solved the problem by paying the third cabin fee and sneaking under gates into second class for morning broth, afternoon tea, and deck chair space.

An official in blue serge and gold braid tells me that these tourist third class people are really hurt and so sensitive that it is hard to make them stay home and play on their own side.

"They know they're as good as anyone else," he says, "and they can't keep a good tourist down."

A few sylphs have even achieved entrance into that sacred of sacred, first class where the bloated plutocrats walk on ponderous feet over orientals and gaze upon oil canvases.

There are certain spots on this ship where one of the gates which separates the sheep from the goats collides with a lifeboat. If one is agile one can climb the lifeboat and into the region where staterooms rent for a thousand dollars or less.

I have met all my friends on the other side. It is probably a felony. Everyone on the boat has committed it. Some persons told me that they wanted to visit the steerage but were not allowed.

Speaking of steerage, some of it, about 100, has been spilled into our sumptuous quarters. A mistake, they say. First time it ever happened. But someone who wore a hat instead of a shawl bought tickets for the entire crowd and here they are, language beards babes et al.

They got shoed back from second class. Not as sensitive as we professionals!

We tourists have organized amusements. We have a community song leader who has taught us a duet about ham and eggs. We are all writing last lines to a limerick about a whale who lived too far from his tail.

We have tablecloths and posies in the old former steerage room, and clean napkins every other day.

Camp style service. Coffee and tea pots are put on the table and we pour our own. Huge bowls of salad and a water pitcher, too, are passed by our own fair hands.

One dislikes speaking of food upon certain occasions, such as voyaging, but since you might like to know what "us poor girls" endure when we rough it, here's today's menu:

Breakfast: choice of fruit, cereal with milk, ham or bacon and eggs with potatoes, rolls, jam, coffee.

Lunch: soup, veal stew, potatoes, combination, salad, dried peach pie, tea.

Dinner: soup, roast beef, potatoes, sweet corn, salad, crackers and cheese, tapioca pudding, coffee.

Broth and crackers are served mid-morning and tea and cakes mid-afternoon. Which seems to be the main trouble.

Deck and cabin tourist third space is altogether too small for the number of passengers. There is space for only a very few deck chairs under a roof. When it rains and suns, a goodly number must flee to staterooms.

We hear few complaints however accommodations may not be Ritzy, but we figure the many nice juicy francs we are saving to spend over there.

Besides we tourists are the only ones who saw the two whales spout yesterday.

Surprise and Shower For Mr. and Mrs. Hall

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall, who surprised their friends recently by announcing their marriage, were pleasantly surprised by about twenty friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who reside with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hall, went for an automobile ride and on returning home were greeted as they entered by the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus played by Miss Mary Wellman. Their minds intent on the melody, the young people entered the home, to be pounced on by a merry group of young friends, members of his Sunday school class, the Loyal Sons; and by her class members, also of the Christian church, the Frilola class, making in all about twenty. An evening of games followed and the serving also, of delicious refreshments. One of the chief features of the happy surprise was the shower of useful and beautiful gifts presented to the young bride and bridegroom, with the best wishes of their friends.

OUT IN THE OPEN.

Upon retiring from Washington, where he had been serving as a member of the corn belt committee seeking legislation for relief of the farming region, George N. Peek said that an accomplishment worth while was that the opposition was driven out into the open.

In this Mr. Peek may be endorsed.
Most of us do not know much about the relative merits of the several farm bills, but when the east lines up almost solidly against a farm bill on the sole argument that it is likely to increase the cost of food, we can understand that.

Long the same argument has been made against the protective tariff, but we of the west have stood with the east in upholding the tariff policy, regardless of the fact that it means higher costs of goods. We hold to the theory that it brings general prosperity, that the purchasing power of the people of the United States is increased, and that the benefits are spread generally.

"It puts a tax on every American table," says the Philadelphia Ledger, presenting the typical eastern argument. That is the old familiar argument against the tariff. "It is a tax on the breakfast table," they said.

"Every loaf of bread and barrel of flour, every cut of steak and quarter of beef, every side of bacon, every ham and every pound of lard will carry that tax," says the Ledger. "It is a tax on the housewife's market basket."

Governor Lowden replies that hogs go from $12 down to $6 without more than 15 percent reduction in the price of bacon; that wheat goes from $2 a bushel down to $1 without more than 15 percent reduction in the price of wheat products, including bread.

If Governor Lowden's answer is correct, and most of us have observed enough to make us believe that it is, the farmer might profit considerably without disturbing the "housewife's market basket."

Even if the price on farm products is made higher, are the farmers not entitled to the same argument that we make in favor of higher prices for articles manufactured in the east. The increased profit would enlarge the buying power of a third of the people of the nation.

We take it that these are the things that Mr. Peek has in mind when he says that the opponents of farm relief have been brought out into the open.

TWO FRIENDS PART.

In Santiago, Cuba, Salvador Aguilera went to his death in the cruel garrote—punishment for murdering his aunt, whom he killed to rob of $200.

It marked the revival of the death penalty in Cuba after a lapse of 20 years, and the executioner was a fellow prisoner of the condemned, and a boyhood friend.

The garrote breaks the spinal column at the base of the neck, by the turning of a screw. The executioner, leaning over Aguilera's shoulder, asked the condemned man's forgiveness, received it and then pressed the lever which took his friend's life.

For performing that little service to his country, the executioner will receive a shortening of his own sentence, which was a long-term one for homicide. How many would be willing to barter for mercy in such a manner?

Her Own Way.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

JUDY IS INSOLENT

My tone had the desired effect upon Dr. Flint. I could see that it drove him mad with rage. He lost all control of himself.

"Where's that bottle?" he fairly shouted at me.

"What bottle?" I asked as innocently as I could.

"You know very well young woman what bottle. Pass it over or it will be the worse for you."

I began to get angry, and I did not make a sound. The idea of that old man telling me that poor Miss Cleaver's suicide was going to make it disagreeable for the Morton Department Store, when he knew how disagreeable the manager of the store had made it for Miss Cleaver before she reached that stage of desperation where she would take her own life made me want to strike him. He need not think that I was going to do anything that I didn't want to do. I think that I made him understand that and that he realized he had made a mistake by trying to bully me, for he immediately started on another track.

"Forgive my outburst, Miss Dean," he said. Of course, you know that I am very much worried about the loss of that bottle containing the liquid that poor Miss Cleaver drank here while she was temporarily out of her head. It will be very terrible if someone who does not understand all the circumstances should find that bottle.

"No one could have dreamed that a woman who was as successful in her chosen work as Miss Cleaver could possibly take her own life. I will tell you, Miss Dean, that I was so sure in my own mind that this could not be, that I did not, as I usually do, glance about for incriminating evidence of suicide when I came upon a man or woman in her condition.

"Of course, the moment I really examined Miss Cleaver I found out what was the matter with her, but I was then too busy trying to save her life to think of anything else."

"Did you really examine her, Dr. Flint? I thought that you were too busy telephoning to do that. I know you left your patient while you had a long conversation over the wire with someone."

"I was trying to get an ambulance to get the poor woman to the hospital," the doctor explained.
"Someone else could have made that request as well as you, doctor. Dr. Flint tried to ignore my last speech."

DELANEY FAVORITE IN HIS BOUT WITH BERLENBACH CHAMP

However Odds May Switch Before Men Enter Ring Tonight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Principals: Paul Berlenbach of New York, world's light heavyweight champion, and Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn.
Conditions: Fifteen rounds to decision at 175 pounds.
Place: Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.
Time: First preliminary 7:15 p. m., standard time. Main event, 9 p. m.
Estimated attendance: 50,000.
Estimated receipts: $500,000.
Referee and judges to be announced at the ringside.
Promoter: Humbert J. Fugazy.

The light heavyweight champion of the world will defend his crown in New York tonight against the man many think should wear it.
Paul Berlenbach of New York product of amateur wrestling, is the champion, Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., who once flattened Berlenbach in four rounds is the challenger.

Only a heavyweight battle hitherto has aroused such interest as that manifest in this fight. Some 500 newspapermen from as far away as Mexico will be at the ringside.

Speculators have large batches of tickets and the $27.50 brand are being offered at $40 while $100 is being asked for a ringside chair.

Delaney is favorite in betting, by about 6 to 5 which very likely will become even money at ring time. Some Wall Street brokerage offices have reported bets at one to three that Delaney will win by a knockout.

A rugged, unrelenting attack, marked by a terrific left hand is the offering of the champion while his opponent—deadly with the right drive and with an improved left—is expected to stand off for a time, protecting himself by his cleverness of foot. Delaney will be awaiting the opportunity he found a year ago last winter, the first opening in the champion's defense, to send that right home.

But Berlenbach by his showing of late, is a vastly improved ringman and the opportunity that Delaney seeks may not come. When Berlenbach hits, he does damage and his friends are supporting him handsomely. Berlenbach gained a 15 round de-

GIANTS CONTINUE TO TRIM STRONGER TEAMS IN THE WEST

Took Couple of Games from Pirates Yesterday Afternoon

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Yankees are having a reaction from late inning failures which have cost them many a game this season. They went into the ninth inning against Detroit yesterday five runs behind and two men went out speedily. Then hits began to appear and the game was tied 6 and 6. The teams toiled for three more innings before Gehrig sent forth a triple which scared Ruth with the winning run.

Chicago gained a 10 to 2 decision over Washington. The other teams in the circuit were rained out.

The New York Giants gained ground in the National by beating Pittsburgh twice 12-8 and 5-2. They were outslugged in the opening encounter, the Pirates piling up 16 safeties to 13 for the opposition, but four of the world champions' runs came in a futile ninth inning effort. Pittsburgh announced that Eddie Moore, infielder, had been fined $100 and E. Yde, left handed pitcher $50 for indifferent playing in the games with the Giants.

Chicago added a game and a half to its lead through Carl May's 5 to 1 verdict over the heavy hitting Phillies.

The Boston Braves scored four times in the opening inning against Chicago and won 6-4 although Benton was hit hard.

Doug McWeeney, pitching strongly except in the sixth when two runs scored, accounted for Brooklyn's victory over the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2. Southworth hit a home run.

Charley Root of the Cubs twirling staff was unable to stop the Braves assault in the first inning and they piled up enough runs to walk away with a victory.

The Giants knocked the Pirates off in both games of a twin bill but some consolation came to the Pittsburgh crew upon being advised that President Heydler had ruled against the Braves who had protested a game which the Pirates had won May 5.

Freddie Lindstrom of the Giants has been slamming the ball hard on the western invasion of his club. In the twin bill against the Pirates, he collected five hits in six times at bat.

Joyce Hawley, who took a somewhat public bath that washed Earl Carroll into criminal court in New York, sampled Chicago's courts too as soon as she got to that city. She was arrested for speeding, driving past stop lights and talking rudely to the cop who pinched her. This picture shows her in police court, where she got a $50 fine. Beside her is Patrolman Frank Williams, who arrested her.

WONDERFUL NEW REMEDY FOR YOUR ACES AND PAINS

Linament They Use on Big League Ball Players Like Coveleski

STOPS ACES, PAINS, STIFFNESS, QUICKLY

Big league baseball stars like Walter Johnson, Buckey Harris, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Coveleski and others cannot afford to be laid up with aches, pains, swollen joints or stiffness a single day, so they must use the best remedy money can buy.

The liniment they use out at the ball park works like lightning and in a jiffy relieves aches, pains, stiffness or swollen joints due to sprains, rheumatic troubles, neuritis, neuralgia, etc. A thousand times each baseball season this wonderful liniment does its work in big leagues, professional and amateur baseball circles and yet this liniment they use is so mild it would not harm a baby's skin and never blisters no matter how much you rub it in or bandage it up.

The liniment is named after the famous trainer, Mike Martin, the man who for years was trainer of the Washington Palace Club of the American Professional Basketball League.

It is called Mike Martin's Liniment. Local druggists are featuring it. Any person suffering with aches, pains, lame back, rheumatism, swollen joints, stiffness, neuralgia or neuritis should get a bottle. It is pleasant to use, never stings and by rubbing a little into the sore, stiff, achy parts you get almost magic relief.

Ball players often catch cold, get stiff, sore or hurt and come to the ball park hardly able to walk, yet out they come from a good rub with Mike Martin's Liniment, as lively, full of pep and ginger as anybody could wish. Watch them scamper and prance in rain or shine. You'd never dream they ever had an ache or pain in their lives. Mike Martin by making this liniment available to the general public in drug stores is doing a great thing for those who suffer. If reader lives out of town and druggist hasn't it, write Mike Martin, Ball Park, Washington, D. C. and he will send a large size bottle with full directions, parcel post, for $1. The White Cross Drug Store and all druggists sell smaller trial size bottles for a few cents—Adv.

MIKE MARTIN, Trainer, Washington Ball Club.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done? Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in five minutes all the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.
